

Technology

SettlePou's Health Law group assists physician practices with various technology related issues for a practice or physician owned entities, including preparation of non-disclosure agreements, preparation of assignment of invention agreements for employees, application for trademarks, and development of privacy policies and license agreements for web sites. The Health Law group also works with outside attorneys to coordinate patent application and prosecution.