EXPERIENCE

SettlePou's Private Business group has a depth of experience in representing clients in various market sectors, including companies in the technology, home building, professional services, and consumer sectors. The group leverages the experience of all the attorneys in the firm to address the variety of legal issues that arise. If necessary, the group will coordinate with its network of counsel outside the firm to address legal issues outside the firm's practice areas. The group further coordinates assistance through its network of service providers for its clients for other professional services, such as banking, accounting, financial planning, employee staffing, and insurance.
