

Dispute Resolution

SettlePou's Private Business group assists in negotiation resolution to the inevitable disputes that arise from time to time in a business. Whether the dispute deals with an important customer of the client, an employee or owner of the client, or a service provider to the client, the Private Business group focuses on addressing the issue early before the problem grows litigious. Michael Byrd, chair of the group and Business Counsel Services practice, uses his experience as a business litigator to identify the strategy for resolving pre-litigation disputes.