

Legislation and Regulatory Affairs

LEGISLATION AND REGULATORY AFFAIRS

SettlePou has provided representation for clients before the legislative and executive branches of Texas as well as local governments including municipalities, commissions and councils. SettlePou maintains significant experience at representing clients in several industries that are affected or possibly will be affected by such legislation. SettlePou attorneys have testified on behalf of the firm's clients before numerous governmental bodies including the Texas Senate and House of Representatives in connection with new legislation. SettlePou attorneys have also assisted clients by authoring and introducing new local and state legislation.

Specifically, in dealing with legislation and public law issues, SettlePou attorneys have effectively represented clients in the following areas:

- * Annexation
- * Economic Development proposals
- * Financial Services
- * Local Government
- * Planning and Zoning issues
- * Property rights