

WORKOUTS

SettlePou combines its lawyers' collection experience with its transactional experience of several decades representing lenders to find creative solutions in the work out process. Using leverage and time to the lender's advantage, our team of lawyers will apply the necessary pressure as the circumstances dictate and support the lender with thorough advice throughout the workout process. SettlePou places an emphasis on evaluating the loan and lien position at the early stages of collection to protect the lenders' interests and place the lender in the best position for liquidation or other collection action should the borrower fail to cooperate or satisfy the lender's workout requirements.
